

Caleb Dawkins (He/Him)

junior art director
FleishmanHillard

Florida-born and Chicago-based — Caleb Dawkins is a young creative working to combine his creative abilities with his passion for diversity and inclusion. He is currently a Jr. Art Director at FleishmanHillard in Chicago. At the agency, Caleb serves as his local offices' Diversity Co-Champion, leading workshops, community-led spaces and social media initiatives to help bring FleishmanHillard's DE&I efforts to life at the local level. All in all, he understands that it is not only about inviting people to the table but offering them a platform to be heard.
