

Clay Mason is a solutions consultant at HealthcareSource where he focused on helping post-acute clients identify solutions that meet their unique needs. Clay has worked at HealthcareSource for more than eight years, including positions in account management, customer service and success and sales. Clay holds a bachelor's degree in Business Administration.