

Marissa Brinkman is the Product Manager for Post-Acute Care Certifications at Relias. Marissa is passionate about delivering client-centered products and solutions that drive customer retention and growth. She holds a bachelor of arts in psychology and communication with a focus in interpersonal, organizational, and rhetorical communication from North Carolina State University.