

Natalie Schmickley (They/Them)

Alfred Fleishman Diversity Fellow,
FleishmanHillard

Natalie Schmickley is a participant in the Alfred Fleishman Diversity Fellowship at FleishmanHillard, an industry-leading program that invites diverse talent to combine their communication expertise with their passion for diversity, equity and inclusion. The first fellow of the FleishmanHillard Detroit office, Natalie supports a variety of accounts in digital and social communication. In addition, they serve True MOSAIC, a global group of DE&I counselors with lived experience and professional expertise. Before joining FleishmanHillard, Natalie worked for their university's women's resource center as a digital media manager for two years. Natalie graduated from Truman State University with dual bachelor's degrees in public communication and creative writing and a minor in film studies.