

Known for approaching every challenge with grace and gusto, Tayla Mahmud has a leadership style all her own. Her passion for leading high-performing teams, delivering results and forging meaningful connections is exemplified by the many accomplishments over her 15+ year career in healthcare communications.

Tayla is the Associate Managing Director at Havas Health & You, where she provides strategic guidance and leads teams to develop marketing campaigns for top pharma clients. Recognized as a Rising Star by the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association, Tayla has successfully led accounts in therapeutic areas such as diabetes, neurology, pain, vaccines and women's health.

Above all accomplishments, Tayla is perhaps most proud of her ability to grow and nurture the next generation of diverse leaders.
