

Hassan Khouli, MD

Department Chair of Critical Care Medicine, Cleveland Clinic

Dr. Hassan Khouli, MD is a Critical Care Medicine Specialist at the Cleveland Clinic and has over 35 years of experience in the medical field. Since 2000, Dr. Hassan Khouli has been the Chairperson of the Medical Ethics Committee at St. Luke's and Roosevelt Hospitals, where he led the Hospital Multidisciplinary Critical Care Committee and implemented several clinical programs that resulted in improved patient safety and outcomes. Dr. Khouli has received several research grants and has published over 50 peer-reviewed research papers, clinical abstracts, and book chapters.